Building the Cooperation Platform between Continuing Education & Enterprises with the University Board as the Core

North China Electric Power University

Abstract: Adhering to the strategy of sustainable development of cooperation between enterprises and universities, North China Electric Power University (NCEPU) constructs the University Board as the core of multi-level and multi-angle cooperation platform, and effectively promotes the combination of university service function and enterprises development needs.

Based on the characteristics of NCEPU, with five parts this paper points out a notion: building the cooperation platform between continuing education and enterprises with the University Board as the core. As an innovative mechanism, University Board not only builds the engineering education of university-enterprise cooperation system with industry characteristics, but also establishes the creative teaching staff training, and thus improves the university’s social service function, as well as sets up a platform for the continuing education.

Author: Jianfei SHEN
Address: North China Electric Power University, Changping District, Beijing, CHINA, 102206
Unit: School of Continuing Education, North China Electric Power University
Tel: 86-10-61772628, 61772617
E-mail: shayin@126.com